

Employee Development Fund Checklist

Four Required Items

Four items are required for an Employee Development Fund (EDF) reimbursement request to be fully complete and ready for review:

1. EDF Request for Reimbursement
2. Proof of Cost
3. Proof of Payment
4. Proof of Completion

- 1. EDF Request for Reimbursement – All fields need to be completed accurately and fully. When saving documents to be attached to the request, be sure to include the requesting employee's name and/or SOUID in the file name.

Tools:

- EDF Job Aid
- Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQs\)

- 2. Proof of Cost – document that displays the cost, fee, or rate charged.
 - Examples:
 - Brochure
 - Web page
 - Letter from the provider on the provider's letterhead
 - Email that lists the fee(s) charged
 - Course catalog page:
 - Entire catalogs or books are not required
 - Instead, provide the page that contains the course name/event and fee
 - When saving documents to be attached to the request, be sure the requesting employee's name and/or SOUID is included in the file name.

- 3. Proof of Payment – submit copies of original receipts or other documentation that establishes the employee personally paid the cost of the eligible expense(s):
 - Proof establishes what you paid the provider, which may include student loans, grants, and/or scholarships.
 - Examples include an invoice or copy of an online account page from the provider that shows current charges and full payment with a zero balance for the named course/event.
 - If needed, remove or redact all account numbers and other private information.
 - Ensure your name appears on the document.

Employee Development Fund Checklist

- When saving documents to be attached to the request, be sure to include the requesting employee's name and/or SQUID in the file name.

4. Proof of Completion – shows that you have completed the learning activity or course.

- Professional Development Activities: a certificate of completion, continuing education unit (CEU) certificate, or a letter/email from the provider of the professional development activity on letterhead.
- Graded Courses: a document reflecting a grade or pass/fail identifier.
 - For a graded course provided by a college/university, documentation must be issued by the registrar of the institution reflecting a "C" or better or "pass" when the course is graded on a pass/fail basis.
 - For graded courses provided by non-college/university organizations, the documentation must be on the organization's letterhead.
- For exempt employees:
 - Membership proof must include documentation from the organization confirming membership.
 - Certifications/Licensure Exam proof must include the exam results.
 - For related fees, proof must include a copy of the certificate or license acquired.
- When saving documents to be attached to the request, be sure the requesting employee's name and/or SQUID is included in the file name.
